PX300 - Single Carburettor

Designed for road and competition single carbs, the PX300 consists of a lightweight ring plate bonded to a high performance air filter element.

The element is made from reticulated foam in a triple layer laminate, with the filter being supported internally by a metal cage.

The PX300 is designed for use on a large range of carburettors as the baseplates are ordered separately to ensure the best combinations for your engine. When ordering elements, please fit the largest possible, allowing a 19mm gap between the trumpet mouth or carb face and the inner face of the filter.
